however, changing the way we are living, when we are living in fear, is scary and, of course, addiction can set in quickly with this drug gingko -- another really well known herb for the brain; it improves circulation to the brain, increases n-acetyl choline, is a cerebral antioxidant, and helps build energy functional medicine turns this entire way of thinking on its head